

Become a member of Philadelphia's CENTER FOR ARCHITECTURE

Philadelphia's Center for Architecture is the place to learn about architecture and become part of the community of designers, builders, and fans of our architectural heritage, cherished neighborhoods, and lively city. Membership in the Center will stimulate your creativity and connect you with a network of people who share your passion; with inside information on exhibitions, lectures and events on the built environment.

Benefits

Members receive special discounts to Center programs, including lectures and children's workshops; subscriptions to all Center and AIA Philadelphia publications; and invitations to our member-only events. Members also receive a 10-percent discount at the AIA Bookstore & Design Center, the city's premiere spot to find the perfect new book on architecture, quirky design gift, or creative children's toy.

Individual memberships are $65 and expire one year from the date of issue. Please fill out the information below and return this card in person or by U.S. Mail at the address listed below.
